

TEN-E regulation & Oil Projects of Common Interest

Ádám SZOLYÁK

Networks and Regional initiatives

Internal Market

DG Energy

European Commission

Security of supply

Energy Union

Research & Innovation

Competitiveness

Internal Energy Market

Energy
Union

Sustainability

Security

Decarbonisation

Energy Efficiency

TEN-E regulation (347/2013)

Process to identify projects of common European interest, with involvement of all stakeholders

Benefits

Accelerated permit granting

3.5
years

One stop shop

Participa tion

Improved Regulatory treatment

Incentives

Cost
allocation

Financial support

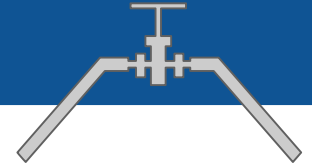

Financial
instruments

Grants

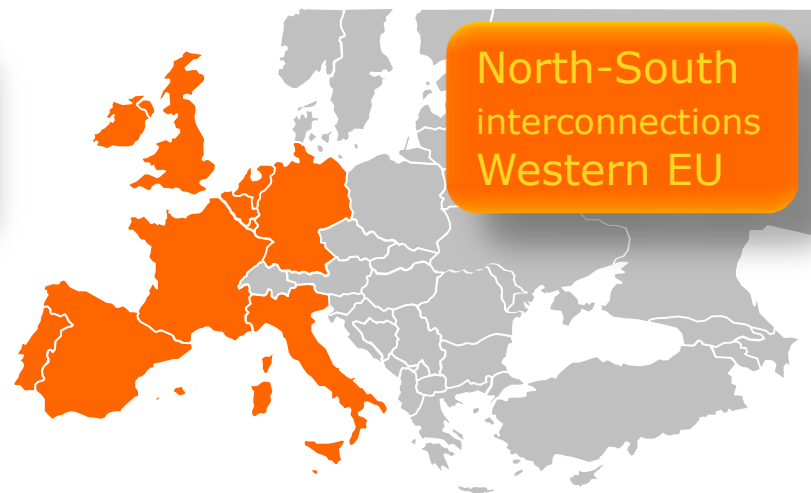

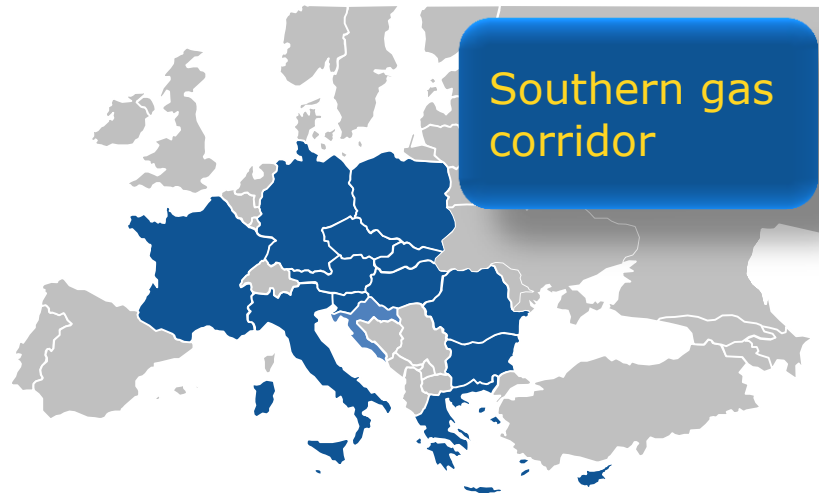

Priority corridors: electricity

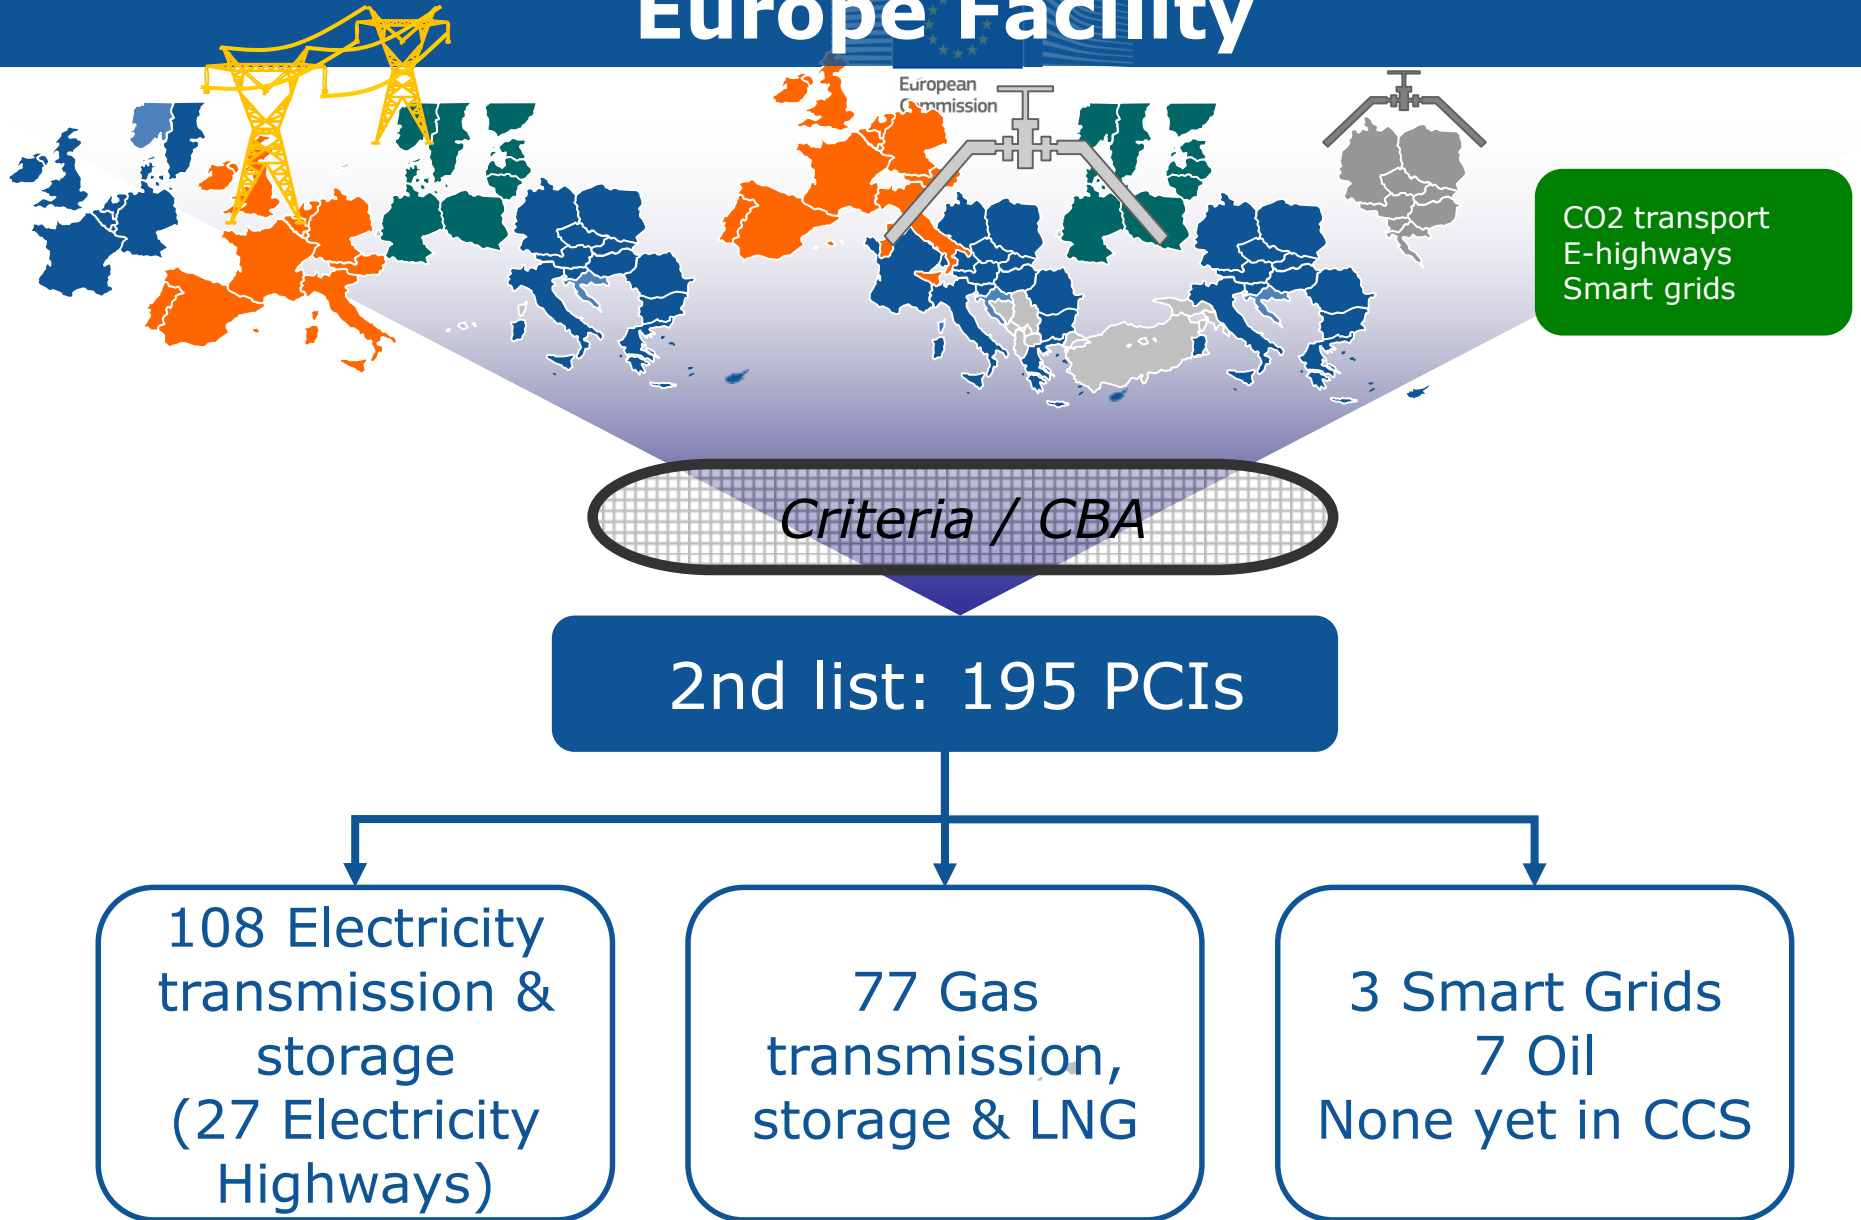

Priority corridors: gas, oil, CO2 transport

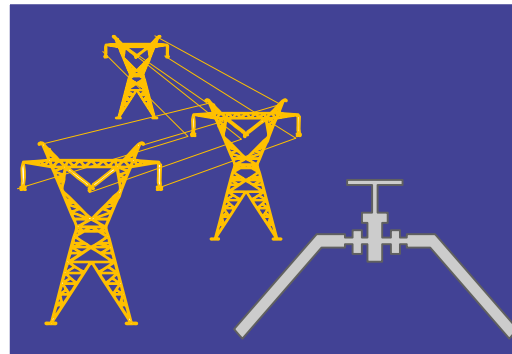

+ carbon dioxide transport infrastructure

The TEN-E Guidelines & The Connecting Europe Facility

Infrastructure is at the heart of the European energy policy

Infrastructure development and modernization

COMPETITIVE-NESS

SECURITY OF SUPPLY

SUSTAINABILITY

Oil PCI projects on second Union List

1.	Adamowo-Brody pipeline: pipeline connecting the JSC Uktransnafta's Handling Site in Brody (Ukraine) and Adamowo Tank Farm (Poland)
2.	Bratislava-Schwechat-Pipeline: pipeline linking Schwechat (Austria) and Bratislava (Slovak Republic)
3.	JANAF-Adria pipelines: reconstruction, upgrading, maintenance and capacity increase of the existing JANAF and Adria pipelines linking the Croatian Omisalj seaport to the Southern Druzhba (Croatia, Hungary, Slovak Republic); (Works on the Hungarian-Slovak section have already been completed.)
4.	Litvinov (Czech Republic)-Spergau (Germany) pipeline: the extension project of the Druzhba crude oil pipeline to the refinery TRM Spergau
5.	Cluster Pomeranian pipeline (Poland), including the following PCIs: 1. Construction of Oil Terminal in Gdańsk 2. Expansion of the Pomeranian Pipeline: loopings and second line on the Pomeranian pipeline linking Plebanka Tank Farm (near Płock) and Gdańsk Handling Terminal
6.	TAL Plus: capacity expansion of the TAL Pipeline between Trieste (Italy) and Ingolstadt (Germany)

Thank you!

